3 rules for a lunch that stays fresh

1

Sauce on the side

Pack it in a small separate container so your grains don't get soggy.

Greens on top

Keep lettuce and fresh herbs away from wet ingredients. Add them last.

3

Keep it cool

Fridge until you leave, then a fridge or ice pack at work.
Prepped lunches keep 3–4 days.

Bonus: the sandwich toaster hack

Fill a tortilla with your protein, veggies and a little cheese, fold it and toast it. Warm, crispy quesadilla in 3 minutes.

Fun fact: the baking paper parcel

Wrap any leftovers in baking paper, fold the edges tightly shut and toast until hot all the way through. Baking paper only, no wax paper or cling film. I do it at work!
